

Bio

Dr. Aline Ferreira is an Associate Professor of Linguistics at the Department of Spanish and Portuguese at the University of California Santa Barbara. She is the director of the Bilingualism, Translation, and Cognition Laboratory. She is also the director of the Latin American and Iberian Studies Program at UCSB. Ferreira is the coeditor of the books The Routledge Handbook of Translation, Interpreting, and Bilingualism (Wiley Blackwell, forthcoming), The Handbook of Translation and Cognition (Wiley Blackwell), The Development of Translation Competence: Theories and Methodologies from Psycholinguistics and Cognitive Science, (Cambridge Scholars Publishing), and Psycholinguistic and cognitive inquiries into translation and interpreting (John Benjamins). She has also published studies in several journals and books, such as Translation and Interpreting Studies, Translation, Cognition and Behavior, Spanish Journal of Applied Linguistics, Cognitive control and consequences of multilingualism (John Benjamins Publishing), Reading and Writing (Springer), Intersections of language and social justice (International Society for Language Studies, Inc.), and The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Linguistics (Routledge) (among others).

Statement

As the director of the Bilingualism, Translation, and Cognition Laboratory at UCSB, I am thankful for the opportunity to host the X ATISA conference at UCSB. It will be a great opportunity for bringing researchers from different parts of the country together to strengthen our networking and to discuss future projects. In the past few years, I have worked with the board in order to organize the X ATISA conference, and I have gained some experience on conference organization. I hope I can keep helping ATISA. It would be my pleasure to be part of the board again.